Training:

Our OMD, Dr. Brady was at our staff meeting testing us on our advanced airway skills.

Marc Winstead, a respiratory therapist gave us an excellent lecture including hands on training on high tech airways and home ventilators.

We are part of a regional "GLASS" study that is researching the need for spinal immobilization of patients involved in motor vehicle crashes that have no window glass breakage. A retrospective study is complete, now if the prospective research supports the current data it should allow us to change our standard of practice in the future.
